The Army Motor Truck Does Work Of 500 Oxen And 250 Wagons Daily

(By Associated Press.) With the Bulgarian Army, Mace lonian Front, June 5.- The truck has revolutionized transportation for the Bulgarian army. An officer in charge of the supply department of one of the units stationed here sub mited figures which he could prove that each motor truck used by his army has been doing the work of 500 oxen and 250 wagons each day. Companies are withdrawing from the state is the time for you to have your house, barn, or out-building protected with a Burriss Metal Shingle Roof. Of course the initial cost is just a trifle more than wood shingles, but in the long run they are much cheaper and they are a tremendous protection against fire. In the past the Bulgarian army has are much cheaper and they are a tremendous protection against fire. Drop in and let us show you. No trouble nor obligation on your part whatever. Respectfully, Jno. ACTIVE FINAL SETTLEMENT

T. Set trains, so that all the work of bringing up supplies had to be left to the ox wagon, a rickety home-made farm affair drawn either by two oxen of the two water bufaloes. With railroads few and far between in Bulgaria and Serbia this made campaigning very difficulty. Not only was the ing very difficulty. Not only was the supply system itself slow, cumber some and usreliable, but it also pro some and usreliand, but it also pre-vented the trops from advancing as rapidly as they might have done had it been possible to get food and am-munition to the front more rapid-The opening of a through route of communication between the Central Empires and Bulgaria changed all this. The motor truck carries a crew of two, is able to transport 3,000 kilograms at an average speed of 15 miles an hour, and runs 16 hours a day if necessary. This means that each motor truck replaces at a 16 hour run, 180 oxen, 360 animals, and about 200 men. Considering that the motor truck with a capacity of more than 8,000 kilograms is by no means rare at the Macedonian front, and taking into consideration the length of the various lins of supply, the average for each truck is, the officer stated, No. No. 250 wagons, 500 animals and about 800 men.

These figures indicate that only about 120 motor trucks were necessary to permit the Brigarian general staff to restore to the farms the 60.000 oxen which wave "furloughed" careful to restore to the farms the 60.000 oxen which wave "furloughed" careful to restore to the hange also liberated from military service, or made available for other branches, more than 20.000 men who had been drivers.

Rapid progress has been made in training Bulgarian soldiers as motor truck drivers and axistants. Generally the men are taught by serving as as alignants to the German drivers Alert young men with some previous experience with machinery are prefered, but there sems to be no troucle atten when young farmers are the apprentices. This to a targe degree a attributed to the fact that the German cotor truck by bulk for army No. 22.
